

The Restless Native

After owning the charter business for several years, owners Brett and Tanis Michelsen are now looking at fulfilling a personal mission, raising awareness of breast cancer and the toll it takes not only on the survivor but on the families and friends who provided support. Cruise for a Cure will raise funds to support the local prevention, early detection and support programmes run by Bermuda Cancer and Health Centre.

"Breast Cancer is a cause very close to my heart. My mother, Lucy Hills, succumbed to the disease on November 11th, 2001, after a 10 year battle" states Tanis Michelsen, owner of Restless Native. "The experience was, to say the least, a difficult and life changing one, but it taught me about the support and love patients and families need on a daily basis. This support is available on the island through Bermuda Cancer and Health and we are excited to be leading a hand."

Sunset Cocktail Cruises will be offered on July 16, 30, August 13, 20 and 27th, from 6-8pm. $45per ticket. $10 dollars from each ticket will be donated directly to Bermuda Cancer and Health Center. To purchase tickets or make a donation, please visit: Lindo's in Devonshire and Warwick, Bermuda Cancer and Health Centre - 46 Point Finger Road, Paget, or contact Tanis directly at 531-8149 or visit www.restlessnative.bm .

Alternatively, you can book a private Cruise For A Cure, for your office party, birthday, girls night out, summer get together, and 10% of the cost will be donated to Bermuda Cancer and Health Centre.

The cruises themselves are not to dwell on breast cancer but are a way escaping for a few hours, connecting with friends and meeting new people. While cruising through Bermuda's inlets, the evenings will include a bar service $5/drink, $2.50/ nonalcoholic beverages, delicious food and beautiful surroundings.

"Treating yourself to a night out with friends is always fun, but knowing that you are making a donation to a great cause is an added bonus," says Deborah Titterton Narraway. "We are grateful to the Restless Native team for creating this one of a kind opportunity and working with Bermuda Cancer and Health Centre in the fight against breast cancer."
